FOUR WEEKS 25 CENTS.

TWENTY DEAD, THIRTY HURT IN WRECK.

BLOODY RIOT; NEW STRIKE.

Scores Reported Killed and Wounded in Clash Between Soldiers and Poles.

Employees Have Again Quit Work at the Putiloff Plant Where Trouble First Originated.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—The Lokal Anzeiger reports that in the casualties at Sosnowice, Poland, in the clash there between strikers and troops, were 15 killed and 35 wounded.

The Vossische Zeitung declares the losses were even heavier, and that the casualties reached 150 persons killed and wounded.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—A strike is again on at the Putiloff and Franco-Russian works. Yesterday a number of the employees of these firms, after a conference with the directors, went out, owing to the refusal of the manufacturers to grant an eight-hour day. The strikers marched in small groups through the city. Their demeanor is quiet. The movement is entirely an economic one and no disorders are feared.

The first strike declared was at the Putiloff works, and from it sprang the disorders which have resulted in much bloodshed throughout the empire.

RANKS OF THE STRIKERS SWELLED BY 30,000 MEN.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—The situation here is still uneasy and trade is paralyzed by the feeling of uncertainty which prevails everywhere. It is estimated that 30,000 additional workers went out on strike yesterday. The men are bitter because they have not received the promised reforms promptly. There is a report current here, which, however, has not been confirmed, that a number of men who again went on strike at the Putiloff works, killed an obnoxious foreman.

JAPAN'S DEMANDS

Conditions Named on Which She Will Discuss Terms of Peace.

London, Feb. 11.—Today's papers say that the following demands will be made by Japan if Russia agrees to discuss peace terms: The demolition of the forts at Vladivostok and the opening of that port to the commerce of the world. A Japanese protectorate for Korea.

An assignment to Japan of Russia's lease of Port Arthur. Possession of the railway from Port Arthur to Harbin, with a strip of land one verst wide on each side of the line. Cash indemnity equivalent to the cost of war since the last overtures of peace three months ago.

STANDARD CO. REPLIES TO KANSAS

Suspends Operations in State, Throwing 900 Men Out of Work.

Independence, Kas., Feb. 11.—The Standard Oil Co. has suspended operations in the Kansas field. Orders were given Thursday to stop buying oil, and henceforth enough will be taken from the Kansas field to supply only the two Standard refineries at Neodesha and Kansas City. The order threw 900 men out of employment. The action is generally accepted as the reply of the trust to the Kansas senate, which yesterday passed bills for the installment of a state refinery in competition with the Standard company.

WORK STOPPED

Through a Telegram sent by General Manager D. J. O'Day, of This City.

Daniel J. O'Day, general manager of pipe lines of the Standard Oil company west of Pennsylvania, and direct head of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, by which name the Standard's lines and purchasing agencies in Kansas and Indian Territory are known, confirmed the report of the suspension of all work in the west. During the day he had sent the following telegram to the heads of all departments of the company:

"W. J. Young, President of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, has telegraphed me that on account of the present agitation in regard to our business in Kansas our credit is being injured and we are unable to secure loans which are necessary for our

ROOSEVELT TO WORK FOR PEACE

May Tender Good Offices of the United States to End War.

Washington, Feb. 11.—At the suggestion of Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, in his capacity of president of the Interparliamentary union, President Roosevelt is seriously considering the advisability of tendering the good offices of the United States in the direction of peace in the company to get in order to carry out the work we have contemplated in taking care of the oil produced by building tanks and pipe lines, and we will have to stop all of the work. "Stop All Work."

"Please give instructions accordingly, and stop all work in the field that can be stopped without liability on contracts, and have it done immediately. Any contracts for tank iron or pipe purchased which can be canceled we will have done, and notify you of the result. There must be no more work done in the field in the way of increasing facilities or building of new tanks. This refers also to pipe lines you are constructing. Please stop work on them at once. Give necessary instructions by telegraph in accordance with the above and see that they are carried out."

"D. J. O'DAY, General Manager." Mr. O'Day, when asked for additional details, pointedly refused to talk, following the custom of all Standard officials. He was asked: "Does the word Kansas mean also that work will be suspended in the Indian and Oklahoma Territories?"

Speaks For Itself. "The letter speaks for itself. This is all sir," replied Mr. O'Day. This action of the Standard in meeting the Legislature of Kansas on its own terms of fight, since that body passed a bill providing for a state refinery conducted by convict labor, not only affects that state, but will fall heavily upon oil men in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Eastern Pennsylvania, who have thousands of dollars tied up in producing wells and leases from which they will be unable to sell their product.

For two years Eastern oil men have been developing the rich fields of Kansas, the Indian Territory and around Cleveland, Oklahoma. Every well drilled meant more than $2,000 almost all of which comes from Eastern banks, and the action of the Standard makes bankruptcy stare the smaller operators in the face.

DETERMINED FIGHT
Will Be Made For State Legislation. Say the Kansas Operators.

Chambers, Kan., February 11.—The Prairie Oil and Gas Company (the Kansas name for the Standard Oil Company), posted a notice today that it would purchase no more Kansas oil. The Kansas City refinery is to get its supply from the territory field and the Neodesha refinery is to be shut down. Until it does shut down the territory field will supply the Neodesha refinery. All the pumps have been laid off. All the tanks at Chambers will shut down indefinitely. Hundreds of men will be thrown out of work, the operators say that they will put still more energy into the fight for the state legislation, as a result of the shut-down.

WONDER WHO?
The Lima Republican-Gazette this morning says: "And now it is up to a well-known newspaper man and good all round scout to explain how his opera house passed came where it was found a short time since—near a hen coop full of hens, but with the padlock on the door."

KILLS THE WOMAN FOR WHOM HE LEFT HIS WIFE

New York Man, Armed With Three Revolvers, Meets Her in Raines Law Hotel—Fires Four Shots Into Her Body.

New York, Feb. 11.—Armed with three revolvers, Emil Bollinger went to meet a woman in the Hotel Monogram, at Seventy-ninth street and Second avenue. He found her there, and shot her dead in the presence of several men and women.

Whether jealousy or anger at loss of a sum of money through the woman, or merely a desperate desire to break off a long-continued relation with her was the motive for the murder it is hard to tell.

Victim Was Pretty. The victim was Louisa Adams, who also sometimes called herself Scarader. Her parents are said to live in Astoria. She was about twenty years old, fair, blue-eyed, handsome of feature, tall and strikingly well formed. She dressed in dashing style.

Apparently she often came to Manhattan by the Astoria Ferry, for she had often been seen by frequenters of saloons near the scene of the tragedy. Bollinger is forty years old, short and stocky of build, partially bald, with sandy hair and mustache. He is married, but his wife has not lived with him for two years. He has been employed for several years as janitor and engineer of the Good Samaritan Dispensary at Essex and Broome streets.

The Monogram is a typical small Raines law hotel, a two-story brick building. On the ground floor are a barroom, a back room and another room opening from it, out behind the store that adjoins the barroom on the Second avenue side.

Customers of the place after midnight were being served in the upstairs dining room.

One Story of the Shooting. One of the witnesses to the shooting is Edward Fennimore, a young man who lives at 337 East Eighteenth street. He says:

"The woman was at a table next to mine, with two fellows. The shooting occurred a little before 3 a. m."

"I saw Bollinger go to the table. She got up at once and went to a table in a corner, as if to show that she didn't want anything to do with him. He kept after her and sat down opposite her at the table. She seemed to be afraid of him."

Fires Four Shots.

"Almost as soon as he sat down with her he began to shoot. He fired three shots in very rapid succession. Then she jumped up and for the first time began to scream. She had been hit. She staggered over to the piano and fell against it. Bollinger jumped up and fired again. As he was about to shoot for the fifth time I grabbed him."

"He dropped the pistol and we began to struggle. Then Sullivan, who runs the hotel, tried to separate us. Bollinger and I went to the floor together and rolled down stairs. There the policeman picked the other man up."

HOCH PROVERBS.

* A Christian is a man who believes in Christ and does as Christ says.

* My chief sin is in having been caught, not so much in having sinned.

* A man should never marry a woman unless there is a money consideration to compensate him for his disappointments.

* Marriage is a lottery, it is true, but it's worse than that, it's hell.

* Before marriage a man swears he will love, but after marriage he loves to swear.

* Before marriage every man has a theory about how to manage a wife, but after marriage it's a condition and not a theory that confronts him.

* Man's trouble with women began in the Garden of Eden, and of late have I had occasion to wonder where it will ever end.

* It's no disgrace for a man to make a mistake in marrying. * Nearly every man who marries does that.

* What's the use in investing in marriage bonds if they are not made to pay cash dividends.

* In Germany a cash bonus goes with every wife. No cash, no husband, and I supposed it was that way over here. But it ain't.

* A widow does not deplore the death of her first husband nearly so much as her second husband often does.

FAST PASSENGER FROM ST. LOUIS PLUNGES INTO FREIGHT IN MEXICO

Cars Soon in Flames; Many Burned Alive—Most of the Fifty Victims Are Said to Be From the United States.

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 11.—Twenty crews and thrown out a guard about the scene of the wreck pending an official investigation. The injured and dead have been taken to the town of Cameros.

The wreck is the worst in years in Mexico. The passenger train ploughed through a line of cars and buried itself beneath the debris.

The wreckage took fire in the narrow defile, and some bodies were cremated. Many of the injured were also terribly burned.

Traffic will be stopped for twelve hours at least.

TRACTION MERGER ON

Consolidation May Be Formed Any Day.

DIRECT LINE TO CINCINNATI

MANDELBAUM SYNDICATE BEHIND A DEAL TO ACQUIRE A TOLEDO LINK OF THE LINE.

[Toledo News Bee.] A consolidation of several traction railroads in Ohio to form a line between Toledo and Cincinnati is on the way and the merger may be closed any day. The Toledo, Bowling Green & Southern may be in the deal.

The Mandelbaum syndicate, which controls the Western Ohio Traction company and several other smaller traction lines in the western part of the state, is back of the merger. The Mandelbaum people want to get a through line from Toledo to Cincinnati and have for several years been working with that end in view.

The Western Ohio Traction company is the big part of the proposed line. The Western Ohio is in operation from Cincinnati to Lima.

The Mandelbaums have also arranged to extend the line of the Western Ohio from Lima to Findlay, and the extension is now in course of construction.

The only remaining link is a Toledo branch. The natural connection is the Toledo, Bowling Green & Southern line, and for some time past the Mandelbaums have been endeavoring to arrange a deal with the Kerp interests, in control of the T. B. G. & S., by which that line would be made a part of their proposed system. The deal, however, has not yet gone through because the parties interested have not been able to agree on a price.

The Kerp, who control, in addition to the T. B. G. & S., the city car line in Findlay, hold their properties at too high a figure to suit the people who want to buy.

The deal is still being discussed, however, and if it goes through, Toledo will have within a few months a direct trolley line through to Cincinnati.

Other Irons in Fire.

Feb. 9, however, to get the T. B. G. & S., the Mandelbaums are also after a projected line from Toledo to Lima. Right of way was secured for this line over a year ago, and Toledo capital was chiefly back of it.

The line was to be called the Toledo, Fostoria & Findlay, and the right of way runs through Pemberville, Bradner, Prairie Depot, and other towns on an all line between Toledo and Fostoria. An electric line is already built and in operation between Findlay and Fostoria.

Work on the construction of this line was begun in the spring. The Mandelbaum people have been making overtures to the backers of the proposed line, and if they are unable to secure the Kerp lines, they will acquire control of the projected Toledo, Fostoria and Findlay line.

Toledo electric men incline to the belief that the deal will go through. Thomas H. Tracy, who represents the Kerpers in Toledo, said he knew nothing about the deal, except that it was talked of and negotiations were undoubtedly on for the consolidation.

Iron-Ox
Tablets

Cure Biliousness

Nearly everyone has occasional bilious attacks; many are bilious nearly all the time; none need suffer from biliousness if they will use Iron-Ox Tablets.

Bilious attacks are caused by a sluggish, inactive liver, which does not throw off the poisons which nature intends it to remove.

This unhealthy condition of the liver is generally denoted by failing appetite, sallow, dirty complexion, bloodshot eyes, coated tongue, offensive breath, weak back and indigestion—the result of poisons accumulating in the system.

Generally the kidneys are affected and the bowels badly constipated.

Iron-Ox Tablets cure Biliousness by stimulating the liver to proper action; and by eliminating the deadly poisons from the system. They tone and strengthen the weakened organs and give them the power to do their duty properly, and as Nature intended they should.

True Stories of Iron-Ox CuresWorth Their Weight
in Gold

Miss Mabel L. Pugh, 635 Scotten Avenue, Detroit, Mich., was ill and for a long time could scarcely be on her feet for any time at all, until she took Iron-Ox Tablets. She says: "I have been taking Iron-Ox Tablets, and they have done me a world of good. My blood was in an awful condition. I was very thin, and I was nervous and was in bed half of my time, till Iron-Ox Tablets were recommended to me by a friend and I had done the worlds of good.
The public ought to know more about Iron-Ox Tablets. They are worth their weight in gold."

A Wonderful
Medicine

Mr. C. W. Brown, of Applegate, Mich., recently used Iron-Ox Tablets in his family, and is delighted with the results. He said recently: "Your Tablets have helped us wonderfully, my wife being troubled with constipation and stomach troubles, and I have been bothered with my liver and kidneys."

Without an Equal
as a Tonic

Mrs. C. E. Davis, 201 Ann St., Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., is one of those who joyfully testify to the worth of Iron-Ox Tablets.
She says: "I am very much pleased with the beneficial results of the Tablets as a tonic."

Used With Best Results by the Entire Family

Mrs. Jean Russell, of London, Ont., Can., used Iron-Ox Tablets in her family with the best results. She says: "I am glad to tell you of the good effects of Iron-Ox Tablets. We first got them for our boy, two and a half years old, who was very cross and had no appetite. Your remedy soon made him as bright as ever. My husband uses them for headache and sluggish liver.
While certainly effective they cause neither pain nor inconvenience. We have a box in the house always now."

for messengers to carry it to His Rock: "Here as I send me." In these closing words has one of the most brilliant and profound thinkers in modern times given to the world the Theosophical idea of the relationship existing between the Jesus of the Bible and humanity. This shows so plainly that while Theoso-phy believes that Jesus Christ lived in a physical body and lost it, yet that having laid aside this prison house of flesh He still lives. It is the living Christ who sustains humanity, not a dead Saviour. It does not seem possible for any one to study carefully the Theosophical idea of Christ, the World-Saviour of the great Aryan Race and not have his reverence and love for Him deepened, his gratitude toward Him increased a hundred fold. Surely no set of thinkers could hold a more exalted opinion of His Supreme position as one of the Great-World-Saviours than do students of the Ancient-Wisdom, or in other words students of Theosophy.

SOUTH SIDE

In a neat little booklet Rev. W. M.
Curry, pastor of the Main street Presbyterian church, announces a series of six addresses on "Church Membership—What It Means," the first to be delivered next Sunday morning.
Rev. Curry has given much thought to the theme, and those who follow him through these discourses will undoubtedly realize in a deeper sense the great responsibility of church membership. The discussion of this subject will occupy the morning hour, 10:30, on the dates named:

February 12.—What is Church Membership?
February 19.—The Church Member and the Church Service.

Rev. W. H. Gallant, former pastor of the South Lima Baptist congregation, and through whose untiring efforts the church edifice was erected, is again to take up ministerial labor, having accepted the pastorate of the Spencerville church. Says the St.
Marys Argus:

Rev. W. H. Gallant, who has made St. Marys his home for two or three years, having at one time concluded to retire from the ministry, has accepted a call to Spencerville, where he will fill the pulpit of the Baptist church at that place and also supply another church near there. Rev.
Gallant, came to St. Marys expecting to make this his permanent home, since which time he has bought property and erected one more house, but is not content to be idle and feels that he should employ his time by accepting the work for which he is fitted. He will move to Spencerville in a few weeks.

Former Councilman Robert G. Miller, who has been foreman in the

GIVEN UP TO DIE BY

Revived at the Last Moment by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, He Is To-day

MR. JOHN SALASUN, New Orleans, La.

"It was just a year ago to-day," says Mr. Salasun, "that I was taken down with pneumonia. The doctor said I had a bad case, but would do his best. He never left my bedside all night, but in the morning gave up and said I'd die. The priest was called and gave me the last rites. As I slowly sank away a dear friend hurried in with a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and insisted that it be tried.
They gave it me in frequent small doses. I revived and by evening had improved considerably. Next day I was decidedly better. I took nothing but Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and was soon entirely cured. Another bottle brought back my weight. Your medicine seemed to penetrate my entire system, as I never looked or felt better in my life. We kept a bottle constantly in the house, and at the least sign of illness or excessive fatigue take a dose or two and are quickly set to rights."—JOHN SALASUN, 1505 South Rampart Street, July 18, '34.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is recognized everywhere as the purest, most powerful tonic-stimulant, and prescribed by doctors of all schools and used in hospitals everywhere as a positive cure for pneumonia, pleurisy, grip, coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption and all diseases of throat and lungs; nervousness, indigestion, and every form of stomach trouble. Our medical booklet tells all about a few of the many thousands of marvelous cures performed within the past few months. Write us for a free copy.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey acts on the food so that the weakest stomach can digest it and extract from it the health-giving, life-prolonging, nourishing ingredients which build up the system and enable it to throw off and resist disease. It is a blood purifier, a circulation strengthener, a heart tonic, a nerve and tissue builder. It makes the old vigorous, keeps the young strong, rejuvenates delicate women, saves the lives of sickly children. Purity and freedom from fuel oil are guaranteed.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold by all reliable druggists and grocers, or direct, in sealed bottles only; never in flask or bulk. Price $1.00. You'll know the genuine by the "Old Chemist" trade-mark on the label. Look for it carefully and refuse everything else. "Duffy's" will cure you; nothing else will. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

GARTERS FOR THE WOMEN

Is the Latest Device of a New York Bank.

DAINTY CIRCLETS HAVE STRONG
BAG AND LOCK ATTACHED
IN WHICH TO CARRY MONEY.

New York, Feb. 1.—To give garters to women depositors to carry money in their stockings is the latest scheme of a bank to increase its patronage.
The fact became publicly known at a meeting of the West End Republican club, when Mrs. Belle DeRiviera, said a representative banking house was considering the feasibility of presented garters to all women depositors.

Not the ordinary affair, with a wicked little bow and a gold clasp, is unworthy of its responsibility. This garter is to be as plain and uncon-promising as an unbecoming bonnet, with no wickedness or sentimentality about it.

Securely fastened to the circlet will be a strong chain-like pocket, with a strong lock. The banking house, with the proper modesty, alludes to this "A secret receptacle to carry funds," and has a plan to order 1,000 of them for presentation immediately.

"So, willy-nilly," added Mrs. DeRiviera, "women must have pockets of their own."

The enthusiasm of the women present was immediate and the bank's customers are likely to increase by scores.

Back to the use of coal and wood in stoves, is the order of the Board of Public Safety, arrangements for the execution of which order are being made today.

The abandonment of heat from the central heating plant recalls a story of "frenzied finance" in the warning line that would seem worse than the story of Coal Oil Johnny's getting rid of the dough. It has been only a few years ago that Plumber J. M.

McVey was given over $250 for piping the city building for natural gas;

then came the purchase of stoves for all the rooms. Finally gas gave out and the central heating plant was paid last year over $900 for plumb-ing the building for steam; now this will be abandoned, new stoves bought, as the old ones have been lost have strayed or been stolen. The action of the B. of P. S. follows the presentation of the bill for steam by the Lima Electric Railway & Light company covering four months, with a total cost to the city of $492.65.

FACTS AS TO DIVORCE.

The president's recommendation that congress provide for the collection of statistics of marriage and divorce is an important step toward a remedy for what has become recognized as one of the most degrading evils of this country.

The first need is for reliable and trustworthy facts. With these at hand, intelligent and prudent action will become possible.

No official census of divorce has been taken since 1886. When Carroll D. Wright made his report on marriage and divorce for the 20 years between 1867 and 1886 he discovered the disagreeable fact that the divorce rate had increased 157 per cent, while population had increased but 60 per cent. In 1887 the number of divorces in the United States was 9,937; in 1886 no less than 25,535.

This showing is bad enough, but there is reason to fear that the new investigation will show a still worse condition.

The number of American divorces is now unofficially estimated at 50,000 annually, an increase of 100 per cent in the last 19 years, while population has increased only about 50 per cent. Incomplete state reports prepare us for what to expect. Indiana, for example, in 1924 granted 1,096 divorces, 1,665 in 1886 and 4,699, or one to every 5.7 marriages in 1900. Michigan's divorces increased from 449 in 1867 to 1,339 in 1886, and 2,518 in 1900. Ohio granted 901 in 1887 and 3,217 in 1900.

Taking the country as a whole, in 1900 it is estimated that there was one divorce to every 15 marriages. Such figures as these, if officially shown to be true, cannot fail to arouse a public feeling that will result in radical efforts for a remedy.

The 1886 report did great good, marking practically the beginning of the anti-divorce agitation. Some reforms have been instituted in many states as a result. But there is still a woeful lack of harmony between the various states and statistics covering the whole ground are necessary to concerted action.

COURT ROUTINE

Alfred Madison is the first grand jury victim to receive punishment. He was indicted on a charge of petty larceny. Yesterday he came into court, waived the reading of the indictment and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail and to pay the costs of prosecution.

Mercy E. Hever was given a verdict for $102.35 against J. R. Straight yesterday. The jury returned its finding about 4 o'clock. Plaintiff sued for damages said to have been incurred by her because of salt water which came from the oil wells of defendant through and over her property. A number of witnesses testified that salt had a very injurious effect on stock, resulting in making sheep, cattle and hogs grow poor. Plaintiff claimed that salt water contaminated a small stream which ran through her land and from which her stock drank.

Bridge Stake, as High as You Like.

One society woman was found yesterday who freely admitted that bridge whist with high stakes is now the rage in Chicago's upper circles and that the "bridge coin-purses" are in great demand.

"The at-large game is not for very high stakes," explained this frank society woman yesterday. "It is only to make the game interesting. But it is a great game."

"Five cents a point, yes, I have played as high as that, and it makes a good game, too, full of spice of the keenest sort."

"Have I played for higher? Well, perhaps a few times. Sometimes it is more and sometimes less because of the presence of certain people who might not appreciate. Then it is most awfully stupid, however."

"Just look at the bridge parties. Is there always a stake? I would hate to have to play if there wasn't. Yes, I think I may safely say that there is, for why would any one give a bridge party unless they were sports enough to have a stake. Oh, yes, bridge players will always have a stake, if it's only that little quarter of a cent."

"The bridge coin-purse" is now the indispensable part of every society woman's wardrobe, and doubtless she would find it far less embarrassing to discover that she had left her gloves at home than her "bridge coin-purse with its golden stakes."

For Tuesday's Reception.
Novel cards have been sent out by the Ladies Board of Managers for the City Hospital, that read:

The Lady Managers of the Hospital Board.

To build a purse's home cannot afford.

But to add the cause without delay Will have a reception on St. Valentine's day.

If for Charity's sake you favor our plan

Come to Mrs. F. G. Steuber's and give what you can"

502 west North street, two until ten.

Norwalk, Ohio.

Miss Holmes, who is a niece of Mrs. S. K. Krauss, of West Wayne street, lived here for some time and has a great many near and dear girl friends some of whom will probably attend the wedding.

Ex-Society Belle.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mrs. J. Reginald Foster, grandniece of Ward McAllister and petted child of fortune, is learning stenography and typewriting at a New York business school, in order that she may be prepared to fight the world for herself when the divorce courts free her from her husband.

Living in a small hall bedroom of a boarding house in Harlem, the woman who was a courted and flattered belle in Washington before her marriage and later famed for her social charm as the wife of the Vice Commodore of the Seward Yacht Club is dependent on the kindness of her few friends for the small comfort she enjoys.

Says Cruelty Drove Her Out.

She is still under thirty and beautiful of face and form, but she alleges that inhuman cruelty drove her from her home and that for four years she has lived in increasing unhappiness. One of the charges she makes against her husband is that he endeavored to have her incarcerated in a madhouse, and that it was while she was actually in a sanatorium, practically a prisoner, and wholly without funds, that Mr. Foster served her with papers in a divorce suit. She escaped and pawned her wedding ring to get money enough to take her back to her home at Seward, N. J., only to be refused admittance to her own house.

Is Still Beautiful.

Tall and shapely, with coal-black hair and dark eyes, Mrs. Foster hardly looks the mother of two boys of seven and four. She is only twenty-eight though she has been a wife for ten years. Her voice softened when she spoke of her children.

J. Reginald Foster is the manager of a brokerage firm in this city. He is living at the Park Avenue Hotel.

Musical Evening.

Miss Michael entertained the Lisztians Monday evening.

The program:

For St. Valentine's Day.

St. Valentine's day promises to be completely filled with pleasures, so many invitations have been sent out. Among the affairs of the day will be the afternoon party the young ladies of the Afternoon Whist Club will give at the home of Miss Belle Folsom, when they will have as their guests sixteen girl friends from Sidney, all members of the Whist Club of that place.

In the Near Future.

Lima friends will be interested in the approaching nuptials of Miss Louise Nichols, formerly of this city, and Mr. James Easton, of Toledo. The wedding will be very quiet and will take place within a few weeks at St. Paul's Methodist church, Toledo. Miss Nichols spent a portion of last summer here, and formerly lived with her mother on west High and West streets.

Social Hour.

The Hawaiians met with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peers Thursday evening and spent the hours dancing and merry making. Luncheon closed the pleasures.

Nobby Cards.

Nobby invitations issued for yesterday read:

Come to my parlor
On February tenth.

Come as early as ten thirty.

With thimble, needles and kind intent.

For with patchwork I reckon
To keep thee busy as a bee.

Neither let these waste thy precious time.

Nor leave 'till after three.

Amelia White.

Quite a number of ladies responded to the above invitations and enjoyed a very delicious dinner.

About the tables were seated Mrs. Dr. Foltz, Mrs. J. S. Nichols, Mrs. J. S. Smith, Mrs. Anna Morris, Mrs. A. Morris, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Will Jones, Mrs. Kincaid, Miss Meta Baker and the honor guest, Mrs. Turner, of Greenspring.

Annual Open Meeting.

The Etude club on Thursday evening gave a very pleasant open meeting for the pleasure of their husbands and friends. It was a typical Valentine party, hearts being everywhere, suspended from the chandeliers, and, especially, while carnations and palms added equal beauty and dignity to the merry scene. Large red and white hearts bore the following musical numbers:

Piano Duo—Carnivalesque, Chaminade
Mrs. Lamson, Mrs. McHaffey.

I Love My Jean.....Burleigh
Miss Arthur.

(a) When Malinda Sings.....Dunbar
(b) The Namin' of the Twins.....Childs
Mrs. Bannister.

Virginia Reel.....
Miss Vincosin, Miss Traudale.

Sing Me to Sleep.....Greig
Miss Herold.

I Will Marry Thee.....Rossett
Miss Arthur, Mrs. Melly.

Overture to Overton.....Weber
Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Williamson,
Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Pierce

(Arranged for two pianos)

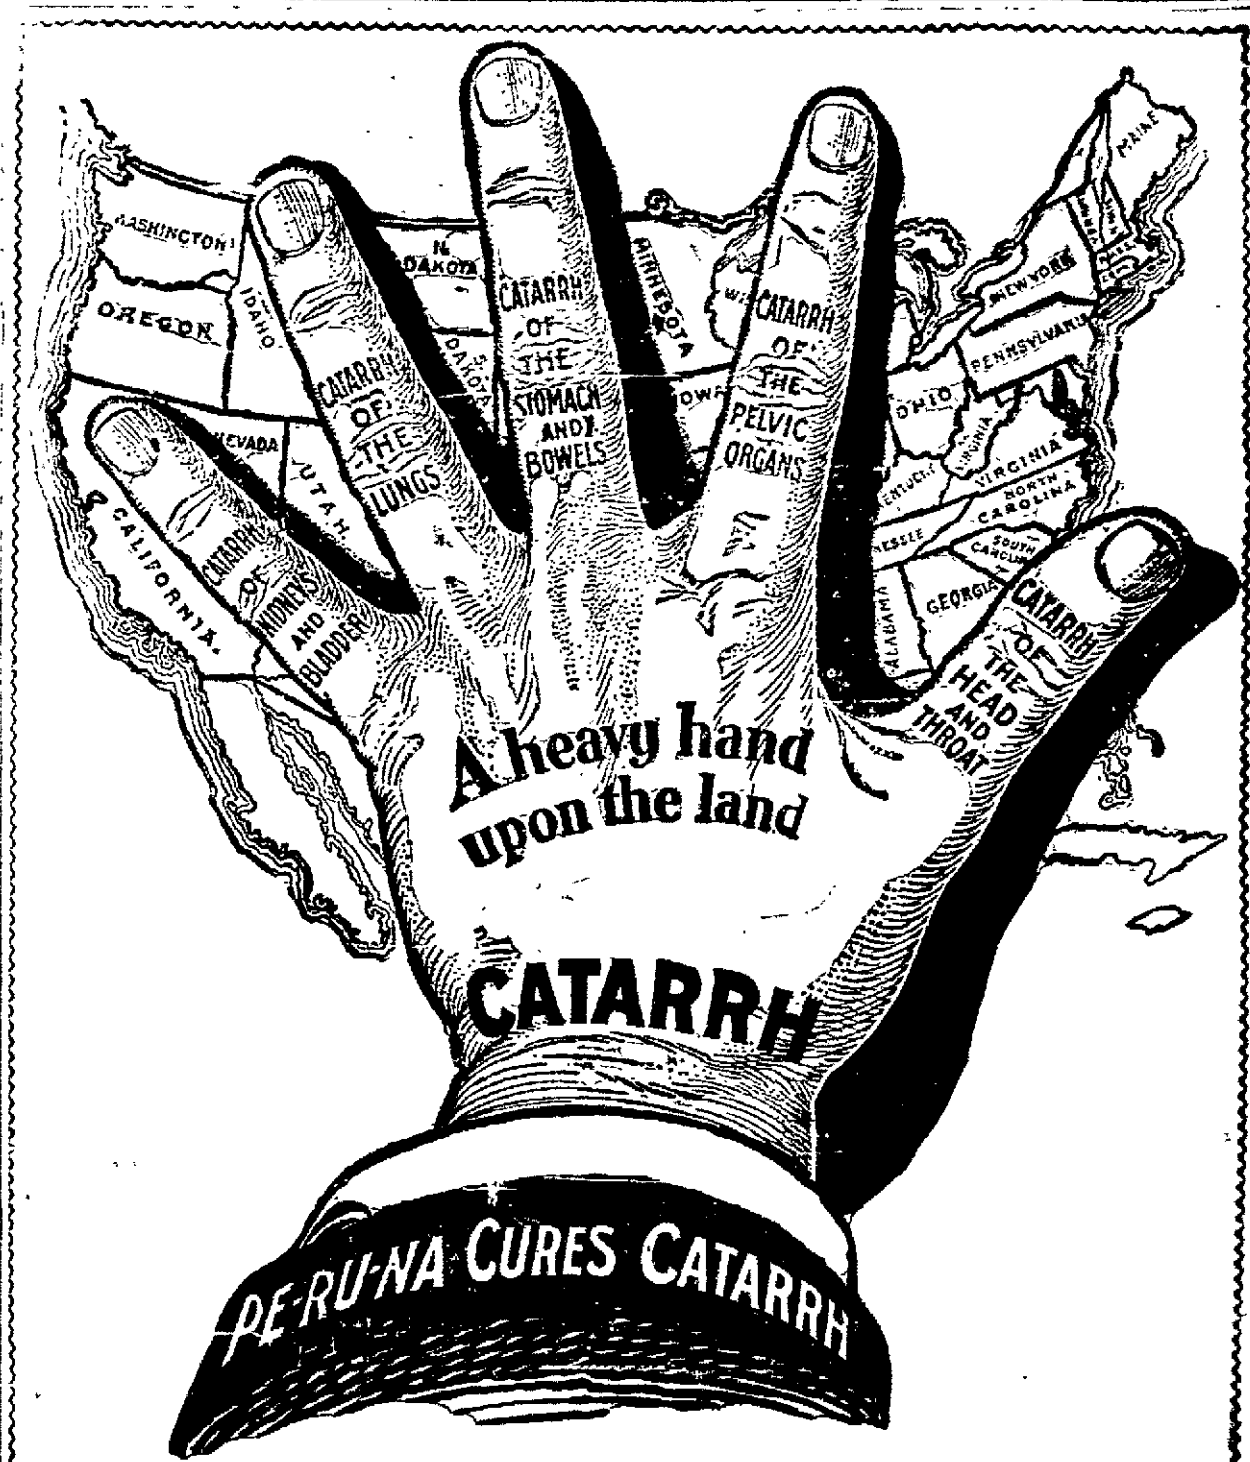

A splendid repast was served at long tables decorated with hearts and carnations. The later hours were spent in an amusing contest and good by's were reluctantly said. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roby, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mrs. Cover, Mrs. Chambers and Miss Chambers, of Warsaw, Pa.; Mrs. L. M. Butler, Mrs. Wilcoxin, Mrs. Harry MacDonald, Mrs. Longworth.

Miss Frey in Opera.

Miss Clara Frey, who has delighted her Lima friends so often with her singing, and who has been studying under Savage in New York City, has joined the "Fritze Schell Opera company" and is one of a party of bridesmaids who officiate at the Japanese wedding. The engagement will be only a six weeks one for Miss Frey, during which time her mother will remain with her.

Future Event.

The beautiful sacred idyll, Rebekah, by Joseph Barnby, will be presented at the Presbyterian church by the choir, assisted by 30 selected voices, accompanied by the large new pipe organ. This scriptural story set to music in its way is as perfect as one of Tenyson's songs. The beautiful duet, "Oh Flower of the Verdant Sea" Between Isaac and Rebekah, will linger in the memory of the hearers, as many of the songs which catch the fancy. The part of Isaac will be taken by Mr. Charles Picquette, of Rochester, N. Y., who has many flattering press notices as having a well modulated tenor voice of great compass with wonderful power and sweetness. The part of Isaac will be taken by Mr. Lull; Rebekah Peruna is recommended by fifty members of Congress, by Governors, Consuls, Generals, Majors, Captains, Admirals, Eminent Physicians, Clergymen, many Hospitals and public institutions, and thousands upon thousands of those in the humbler walks of life.

by Miss Leah Arthur. Mrs. Charles A. Moore will preside at the organ which will be a great support in the rendition of this beautiful work.

Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Sutorius Circle was given last evening in the hospitable home of Judge and Mrs. J. E. Ritchie, on west Wayne street. Carnations of a vivid red hue were everywhere about the spacious parlors and graced the centers of two long tables where were seated Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hadsell, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cable, Mr. and Mrs. X. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heman, Rev. and Mrs. Avann, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foll, Miss A. The Wings of the Morning
By LOUIS TRACY
Copyright, 1935, by Edward J. Clode

Chapter I—The Sirdar, having among her passengers Iris Deane, daughter of the owner of the ship, and Robert Jenks, who is working as a waiter, is wrecked.
II—All are lost save Miss Deane and Jenks, who are cast ashore on an islet in the Pacific.
III—Jenks recovers stores and weapons from the wrecked vessel. He finds the skeleton of a European on the island.
IV—A cave on the island is fitted up as a habitation. A chart of the island, mysteriously marked, is found on the skeleton.
V—Jenks finds a hollow filled with human skeletons, the remains of a mining party. He is rescued from an octopus by Iris while recovering rifles from the wreck of the Sirdar.
VI—Jenks tells Iris that his real name is Anstruther and that, through the machinations of Lord Ventnor, he has been unjustly dismissed in disgrace from the English army. Lord Ventnor has been mentioned on the Sirdar as affianced to Iris.
VII—Iris is attacked by a party of fierce Dyaks (Polynesian natives). They are beaten off by Jenks, three, however, escaping in their boat. The castaways dread their return.

ceived some warning Iris and he might retreat in the darkness to the cover of the trees. A last stand could be made among the boulders on Summit rock. But of what avail to purchase their freedom until daylight? And then—
If ever man wrestled with desperate problem, Jenks wrought that night. He smoked and pondered until the storm passed, and with the changelessness of a poet's muse, a full moon flooded the island in glorious radiance.
He rose, opened the door and stood without, looking steadily at the brilliant luminescence for some time; then his eyes were attracted by the strong lights thrown upon the rugged face of the precipice into which the cavern burrowed. Suddenly he uttered a startled exclamation.
"By Jove!" he murmured. "I never noticed that before."
The feature which so earnestly claimed his attention was a deep ledge directly over the mouth of the cave, but some forty feet from the ground. Behind it the wall of rock sloped darkly inward, suggesting a recess extending by haphazard computation at least a couple of yards. It occurred to him that perhaps the fault in the interior of the tunnel had its outcrop here, and the influences of rain and sun had extended the weak point thus exposed in the bold parapet of stone.
He surveyed the ledge from different points of view. It was quite inaccessible and most difficult to estimate accurately from the ground level. The sailor was a man of action. He chose the nearest tall tree and began to climb. He was not eight feet from the ground before several big flews flew out from its leafy recesses, filling the air with shrill clucking.
"The devil take them!" he growled, for he feared that the commotion would awaken Iris. He was still laboriously working his way through the inner maze of branches when a well known voice reached him from the ground.
"Mr. Jenks, what on earth are you doing up there?"
"Oh! So those wretched fellows aroused you?" he replied.
"Yes, but why did you arouse them?"
"I had a fancy to roost by way of a change."
"Please be serious."
"I am more than serious. This tree grows a variety of small sharp thorn that induces a maximum of gravity—before one takes the next step."
"But why do you keep on climbing?"
"It is sheer lunacy, I admit. Yet on such a moonlit night there is some reasonable ground for even a mad excuse."
"Mr. Jenks, tell me at once what you are doing."
Iris strove to be severe, but there was a touch of anxiety in her tone that instantly made the sailor apologetic. He told her about the ledge and explained his half formed notion that here they might secure a safe retreat in case of further attack, a refuge from which they might defy assault during many days. It was, he said, absolutely impossible to wait until the morning. He must at once satisfy himself whether the project was impracticable or worthy of further investigation.
So the girl only enjoined him to be careful, and he vigorously renewed the climb. At last some twenty-five feet from the ground, an accidental parting in the branches enabled him to get a good look at the ledge. One glance set his heart beating joyously. It was at least fifteen feet in length. It shelved back until its depth was lost in the blackness of the shadows, and the floor must be either nearly level or sloping slightly inward to the line of the fault. The place was a perfect eagle's nest. A chamois could not reach it from any direction. It became accessible to man only by means of a ladder or a balloon. More excited by this discovery than he cared for Iris to know, he endeavored to appear unconcerned when he regained the ground.

"Well," she said, "tell me all about it."
He described the nature of the cavity as well as he understood it at the moment and emphasized his previous explanation of its virtues. Here they might reasonably hope to make a successful stand against the Dyaks.
"Then you feel sure that those awful creatures will come back?" she said slowly.
"Only too sure, unfortunately."
"How, unless poor humanity is when the veneer is stripped off? Why cannot they leave us in peace? Perhaps if I had not been here they would not have injured you. Somehow I seem to be bound up with your misfortunes."
"I would not have it otherwise were it in my power," he answered. For an instant he left unchallenged the girl's assumption that she was in any way responsible for the disasters which had broken up his career. He looked into her eyes and almost forgot himself. Then the sense of fair dealing that dominates every true gentleman rose within him and gripped his wavering emotions with ruthless force. Was his time to play upon the high strong sensibilities of this youthful daughter of the gods, to seek to win from her a confession of love that a few brief days or weeks might prove to be only a spasmodic but momentarily all powerful gratitude for the protection he had given her?
And he spoke aloud, striving to laugh, lest his words should falter:
"You can console yourself with the thought, Miss Deane, that your presence on the island will in no way affect my fate at the hands of the Dyaks. Had they caught me unprepared today my head would now be covered with a solution of the special varnish they carry on every foreign expedition."
"And yet these men are human beings!"
"For purposes of classification, yes. Keeping to strict fact, it was lucky for me that you raised the alarm and gave me a chance to discount the odds of mere numbers. So, you see, you really did me a good turn."
"What can be done now to save our lives? Anything will be better than to await another attack."
"The first thing to do is to try to get some sleep before daylight. How did you know I was not in the cave?"
"I cannot tell you. I awoke and knew you were not near me. If I wake in the night I can always tell whether or not you are in the next room. So I dressed and came out."
"Ah!" he said quietly. "Evidently I snore."
Iris retreated, and the sailor, tired out at last, managed to close his weary eyes.
Next morning he hastily constructed a pole of sufficient length and strong enough to bear his weight by tying two sturdy young trees together with ropes. Iris helped him to raise it against the face of the precipice, and he at once climbed to the ledge.
Here he found his observations of the previous night abundantly verified. The ledge was even wider than he dared to hope, nearly ten feet deep in one part, and it sloped sharply downward from the outer lip of the rock. By lying flat and carefully testing all points of view he ascertained that the only possible positions from which even a glimpse of the interior floor could be obtained were the branches of a few tall trees and the extreme right of the opposing precipice, nearly ninety yards distant. There was ample room to store water and provisions, and he quickly saw that even some sort of shelter from the fierce rays of the sun and the often piercing cold of the night might be achieved by judiciously rigging up a tarpaulin.
"This is a genuine bit of good luck," he mused. "Here, provided neither of us is hit, we can hold out for a week or longer at a pinch. How can it be possible that I should have lived on this island so many days and yet not lit upon this nook of safety by mere chance, as it were?"
Not until he reached the level again could he solve the puzzle. Then he perceived that the way in which the cliff bulged out on both sides prevented the ledge from becoming evident in profile, while, seen in the glare of the sunlight, it suggested nothing more than a slight indentation.
He rapidly sketched to Iris the defensive plan which the eagle's nest suggested. Access must be provided by means of a rope ladder, securely fastened inside the ledge and capable of being pulled up or let down at the will of the occupants. Then the place must be kept constantly stocked with a judicious supply of provisions, water and ammunition. They could be covered with a tarpaulin and thus kept in fairly good condition.

Paris" stands forth prominently as one of the recent musical comedy hits. The book and lyrics were written by George Ade whose fame as a humorist is a certain guarantee of their wit and brightness. This play ranks as one of the cleverest of Mr. Ade's efforts. It abounds in satire, humor and merriment. The characters are droll and amusing, and they are carried through a succession of mirthful scenes and situations. It has been said of "Peggy From Paris" that there is a "laugh in every line." The humor of the play while light and swift and irresistible is also wholesome; the humor constant and unflinching is of high order and without taint of coarseness. The play compels laughter by the keenness of its wit, the comical complications. The music is especially attractive. It was written by William Lorraine and its quality is guaranteed by the fact that he wrote "Salome" and "Zamora" than which nothing more popular has ever been played by an orchestra or on piano. Indeed, "Peggy From Paris" is famed for catchy and swinging melodies. There are many musical hits in the play which are certain to capture public fancy here, and they are sung by vocalists and a chorus whose fame has long preceded them.

The forthcoming second annual tour of Julia Gray in Lincoln J. Carter's masterful play "Her Only Sin," will be welcomed by lovers of high class melodrama. "Her Only Sin," is beyond question one of the strongest and most interesting plays that has ever visited our city.

The author belongs to that small group of dramatists, who understand how to reach the heart, with intense situations, and starring climaxes of good material worth, exploited in a masterful manner.

Mr. Carter has spared no expense in grouping together a galaxy of the highest salaried artists to interpret the many difficult parts.

The scenery and effects are adequate and sumptuous.

Julia Gray has the stellar role.

Don't Neglect Yourself.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe headaches and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.
His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.
I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.
Mrs. L. M. Thompson, Member, BESTHOVEN HYGIENIC SOCIETY.

.....Y. M. C. A. DOINGS.....

"Beware of Dogs." is the subject of an address to men at the Y. M. C. A. building, Sunday, February 12th, at 3 p. m. by Dr. R. J. Thomson. No man who has heard Dr. Thomson will fail to hear him on this occasion, knowing that his treating of any subject is as original as is its designation, and is clear-cut, forceful, searching. This will be Dr. Thomson's last address to men before he leaves his field of labor here, and the capacity of the hall will no doubt be taxed by those eager to hear him. Come early and bring your friends. The address will be preceded by a concert in the reception room by Fray's orchestra. The main floor is always crowded with men who thoroughly enjoy the sweet music rendered by this orchestra.

The Association Male Quartette will also be present and lead the song service immediately following the orchestral concert. Prof. Lull has had charge of the quartette all winter and this alone should be a guarantee for the excellency of the song service.

After the address at 4:15 five bible classes convene taking up the study of the Bible in as many different ways, and lasting till 5 p. m. Two of these classes taught by H. V. Chase and E. Orsland respectively, are tracing main lines of the Bible, so that a beginner may find his bearings and proceed later to a more intensive study; each class differing in the subject matter taught while following the same plan. Two other classes taught by L. H. Kibby and Thos. R. Jones, are following the life of Christ, the former emphasizing His doctrinal teachings, and the latter His times and His people, one other class is a study for those Christians who feel the need of special preparation in taking the gospel to other men.

It would be well if more of the Association members were in attendance at the Sunday activities in the building. There are strangers who come there for the first time and if they are met with a hearty welcome they will in all probability quite permanently with the Association, to their own, and others great advantage. So, members, plan to be there. Speaking of members, you members who read this, and other friends of the Association, are you using every endeavor to interest at least one new man in the Association? There are hundreds of young men in this city who would be much benefited by the resulting opportunities, and who need only an encouraging word to take them in. Remember of the Got-Two Club supper this month—date later—will include all new members for the month previous, so bring in your new man and let's initiate him.

The employment department of the Association wants more applications from members who can do things. The calls for men can't be filled. If you are dissatisfied, want a change, or out of work, file your application. A call for you may come at any time.

Beginning with Monday the gymnasium classes will each have a prearranged program for each session.

The aim of this plan is:
1st, to give variety—which according to a common expression is "the spice of life."

AMUSEMENTS.

The stage has of late years given successful realization of many characters first made famous in the funny pages of our great dailies, but of all these none have come forward with so strong a hold on universal fancy as "Buster Brown," which will be seen at the Faurot this afternoon and evening. There are many reasons why Buster has been taken to the general heart, but two are almost potent; these are his absolute and convincing reality and his youth. The child appeals to all. Children sympathize with him and their elders love him. That clever and enterprising manager, Mr. Melville B. Raymond, was quick to see Buster's dramatic possibilities, and secured from his creator, Richard Outcault, and the New York Herald, the sole rights of representation. Then he obtained the services of one of the most successful playwrights in building a story on Buster's pranks and put this in a handsome setting, illustrated with a chorus of exquisitely beautiful girls, gowned in the most sumptuous styles, by Wamamake. Musical features were supplied, and a clever little comedian will play Buster. Only second in importance to Buster in the thought of those who have come to know him so well, is Tige, his dog. He has not been forgotten, but will be represented by a well known animal impersonator. The cast includes several well known and favorite players, among whom are Master Giovanni, Jack Bell, Frank Christie, Jim T. Kelley, Bert Jordan, May Walsh, Caroline Nelly McLeod, Nan Dodson, Mammie Goodrich, Amelia Baird and Rosa Cronch. James Gorman, the prince of directors has charge of the stage.

MISS INEZ MACAULEY IN "PALS."

great success achieved by the young star and her beautiful production that the time was extended until it was impossible to do so any longer. Manager Fred J. Zimmerman, Jr., then arranged to transfer his attraction to the Lyric Theatre, hardly a stone's throw away. Here the success of the first engagement was duplicated and "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" became one of the best readily playing theatrical ventures of what is universally acknowledged to have been the worst theatrical season known in many years. After the run at the Lyric Theatre the company intended for a few weeks only, but so began a tour of the large cities, but so great had been the impression made in New York that before the close of the season late last spring, "Dorothy Vernon" played week engagements in three more New York theatres. The play with all the wealth of scenery and costumes that have done so much to make it conspicuous among the biggest productions of the modern stage will be seen at the Faurot. It is said instead of depending on the impression made everywhere last season, and as is all too often the case with last year's success, going on tour with an inferior company. Manager Zimmerman has provided Miss Galland with an organization that is even stronger than the original one.

"York State Folks," the prettiest of all pastoral plays, comes to the Faurot Opera House next Tuesday night direct from a triumphant three months' run at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, which was preceded by a similar engagement at the Great North ern Chicago. This charming comedy of village life has established itself as the greatest favorite of all the rural dramas, as evidenced by its record-breaking engagements everywhere. It is the only dramatic attraction which had ever kept Boston theatre open all summer long, against the rivalry of seashore and mountains and the deadly effects of the hot weather in the city. "York State Folks" packed the Majestic at every performance, so that the orchestra had to be banished to make room for the crowds after the first week. The experience has been similar in all other cities where "York State Folks" has been seen. It comes here with the great original cast complete, including James Lackaye, Ray L. Royce, John Saunders, Samuel Barton, Eleanor Sidman, Frances Young, the three clever children and all the others. The same elaborate scenic production used in the Boston run will be shown here, including the famous "Maple Lane" scene, the great shop scene, and the unique dream scene of the finale in which a vested boy choir appears.

Those clever artists Mr. James J. Corbett, Mr. Neal Davis and Miss Inez Macauley who have stood the test as top-liners in all the leading vanderbilt houses of the country for the last five years, come to use this season in a new dramatic comedy from the pen of that well known author Mr. Edmund Day, entitled "Pals." The piece is said to be different from all others, and to be built on up-to-date lines. In the construction an effort has been made to depart from the conventional time-honored method of producing plays. Judging from public approval the effort has been satisfactory. The plot is strong, logical and original, the situations develop rapidly and the climaxes are harmonious and dramatic. The comedy element is plentiful, the dialogue brilliant and the intricacies of the plot are handled in such away as to leave the auditors amazed at the web of tangled situations. A carload of magnificent scenery is carried. The electrical and mechanical effects are said to be a marvel of ingenuity. A carefully selected supporting company of twenty people make up the personnel of this excellent attraction. The heroic lead, especially written to fit Corbett's personality, proves to be the success of his theatrical career. Mr. Davis, under whose direction this attraction is, appears in the leading comedy part. Miss Macauley in the ingenue lead is as sweet and pretty as of yore, and is adding to her laurels as one of our leading comedians of the American stage. This attraction will be at the Faurot next Thursday night.

"Peggy From Paris," one of the most successful musical plays ever produced in this country will be an early offering at the Faurot, an announcement which will be received with pleasure by theatre patrons in this city and vicinity. "Peggy From Paris" (Continued on sixth page.)

LOST A 'G'

IN ORDER THAT SHE MIGHT MARRY HER COUSIN—MINISTER SAYS THE CEREMONY IS NULL

Sandusky, Ohio, Feb. 11.—(Charged with making a false affidavit to a marriage license for himself and Olive Griggs, of Vicksburg, Jay Griggs was arrested this afternoon on complaint of the girl's father who alleges that they are cousins. When they made application for a marriage license the girl gave her name as Olive Griggs, leaving off one of the "g's." Rev. Mr. Walker was named as the officiating clergyman, but he refused to officiate, suspecting that they were of blood relation. They then sought Rev. Mr. Robrock, who performed the ceremony. At its conclusion, the girl, who is only 14 years old, asked to add another "g" to her name on the license, which he refused to do. Now Rev. Mr. Robrock claims that the young couple are not married, as the girl's name does not appear properly on the license.

TOUGH

Weather on the Railroads.

PASSENGER TRAINS ON THE LOCAL LINES WERE FROM ONE TO FIVE HOURS LATE THIS MORNING AND LAST NIGHT.

The thermometer this morning at an early hour registered six degrees above zero, not so cold as it was, but plenty cold, thank you. It is tough weather on railroading and trainmen all over the country will have a sigh of relief when it is all over. Trains on the local lines were away behind last night and this morning. The Erie suffered more severely than the other lines.

CRIME

The Most Horrible Known to the Civilized World Was Committed by Mrs. Emma Van Liew, of Van Wert.

WHO NOW SEEKS CLEMENCY— HEARING OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON IS SET FOR NEAR FUTURE.

The Van Wert Bulletin has this to say concerning the application for pardon, of Mrs. Emma Van Liew, wife of the well known ex-agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Van Wert:

Emma A. Van Liew has applied to the Board of Pardons for release from the Ohio Penitentiary and the hearing on her application is set for a meeting to be held at Columbus in the near future. Mrs. Van Liew, after having exhausted all the legal technicalities known to the law, stood before the bar of justice and acknowledged the guilt of having caused the death of Alice Hammel by means the most horrible known to the civilized world. Her crime was committed on the night of September 12, 1900, and on the last day of the following November she was sentenced by the late Judge Mooney, to the state penitentiary for a period of ten years. The public was at the time of the sentence divided on the point of whether so atrocious a crime, then the second of the kind known to the world, should have been permitted to pass with a penalty the severity of which was no greater than that dealt out in some states for the crime of horse stealing and which is in this state only one-half of the possible sentence. Mrs. Van Liew once before applied for clemency and her appeal was met by hundreds of remonstrances from citizens of this town and county and from other parts of the state. A like movement is sure to follow in this instance and the Board of Pardons will again be given to understand that the terrible details of the crime are still fresh in the minds of the people.

PLENTY OF EGGS,

BUT THE MEAT COMBINE OWNS THEM AND THEY ARE MORE COSTLY IN CHICAGO THAN HERE.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—It is estimated that there are 45,000,000 eggs in cold storage in Chicago. Notwithstanding this a famine in the product exists and holders are paying from 35 to 38 cents a dozen. The meat packers are said to have a corner on the market. Last spring when eggs were cheap the meat packers and a few heavy dealers secured hundreds of thousands of cases of eggs, which were at once put away for a time when owing to natural conditions the market supply of fresh eggs would be equal to the demand. The eggs were bought at a price ranging from 15 to 17 1/2 cents a dozen.

HOCH WAS IN FINDLAY.

Went Under Another Name There During the Boom.

Findlay, O., Feb. 11.—The question in the minds of many here is did "Bluebeard" Hoch, the man of many wives, woo and win a heart in Findlay. Johann Hoch passed through Montimer Thursday about noon. He was in the custody of two officers. A reporter succeeded in making his way to the seat in which Hoch was sitting. He made an effort to be jovial at first, but soon became sulky and disagreeable. He would not talk although the officers made no objection. "Well, Hoch, no one can deny that you made a decided success of this marrying business," jolted the reporter.

"That is my business," was the reply. "You can't expect me to talk to you. The city reporters have offered me big money for a statement, but I won't talk. From Findlay? Well, you might get something there. I was in your place during the boom. Yes, I might have gone under another name then."
